Unity and knowledge sharing

This is the overall theme of the 49th Apimondia Congress to take place in Copenhagen 23 – 27 September this year.

The Beekeepers Associations from Norway, Sweden and Denmark look forward to welcome guests from all over the world to a great celebration of all aspects of beekeeping. With the good cooperation of Apimondia, the Professional Congress Organizer Conmark and an active local organizing committee, we are convinced this will be a congress to remember.

Together we make the world bloom!

A huge scientific program.

Apicultural science plays an important role at the congress.

Several Keynote speakers are ready to give talks. Find the list on the congress website www.apimondia2025.com

We have received 1036 abstracts. The Scientific Commission are busy evaluating the submissions to select high quality papers to be presented. There will be room for more than 200 oral presentations, and 800 posters. The detailed program of the lectures will be on the website soon.

The quality of our product has a high priority at the congress.

There will be a Global Honey Bar to taste and learn about the great diversity of honeys from all over the world. Your national member association of Apimondia have been asked to find high quality honeys to present at the Honey Bar.

You will also have a taste of the wonderful Scandinavian honeys and learn about the production of Scandinavian honey.

Several workshops and forums will focus on high-quality products, and others will discuss the problems caused by honey fraud.

Apiexpo

The 7000 m<sup>2</sup> exhibition is full. This will probably make it the largest exhibition ever of everything connected to apiculture. Find more information and the list of exhibitors at the website.

www.apimondia2025.com

You will have a lot of possibilities for discussions at workshops, at the posters and when we meet in the foyer over a cup of coffee.

We also organize a Beekeepers Forum. A modified speaker's corner, where we give the microphone to people who have new inventions or great ideas to present. Scientists who are open to discussing will be invited to stand up for questions. There will be moderation to keep a polite and gentle atmosphere and to avoid commercials and subjects that are not associated to an apicultural congress.

Prepare your visit to Scandinavia

Deadline for "early bird" registration to the congress is 31 May 2025.

Most participants will not need a visa but if you need a visa you should look at the information at the website, www.apimondia2025.com, General information and follow the guidelines there.

We have organized a great tour program with visits in Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

Some of the tours are fully booked already, we will organize more.

On the congress website you will find a great variety of hotels, hostels and camp sites in close vicinity of the congress center or downtown Copenhagen. Most in close vicinity of the metro.

See <http://beebonding.com> where you can book accommodation in Sweden, Norway and Denmark and create your very own Scandinavian beekeeping adventure before or after the congress.
